CESES applies common standards and conditions for projects contracted under the CESES umbrella, combining CESES-wide standardisation with the individual Member skills

CESES has established a central Project Management function to contract for Members and allocate projects within the CESES system.

CESES also supervises financing, reporting and quality control.

CESES is pleased to receive your comments and to answer any questions you may have, via info@ceses.net

Important Note:

CESES is ready to serve your needs from the rich resources of its Member Organisations in 14 countries.

Should you wish to limit your request to a given country or organisation, CESES can direct you directly to the appropriate CESES Member Organisation

CESES

CESES aims to contribute to raising standards of living through voluntary assistance to small and medium-size, financially weak, enterprises and institutions.

CESES offers the skills and life-time experience of over 24,000 Senior Experts from all sectors of the economy .

All CESES operations are strictly non-commercial, without political, religious or racial constraints, and are complementary to the work of consultants.

Individual assignments, mainly short-term, are carried out by the CESES Member Organisations within a framework of agreed-upon operational standards, including stringent quality requirements.

CESES expertise is to be found among the Member organisations which have extended operational experience and covering developing economies in 158 countries in Africa, Asia, Central and Eastern Europe, Latin America and Oceania.

In addition, some perform domestic projects, mostly to assist small enterprises.

The total annual volume of assignments stands at around 5,000 international and several thousand domestic ones.
